Quilted throw

Method:

We have included a 1 cm seam allowance on all sides.

On the right side of one piece of fabric, draw the pattern you want to quilt on the throw, with a self-erasing marker (such as a Trick marker). We drew 10x10 cm squares and left a 5 cm edge (plus a seam allowance) all the way around.

Lay the fabrics right side facing right side, together with the wadding.

Sew together along the sides, but leave an opening to be able to turn the piece right side out.

If you like, cut off a little wadding around the edges to prevent the corners and edges from becoming too thick.

Turn right side out and iron the entire throw. Sew up the opening.

Pin carefully along all lines you will quilt. Preferably, pin one row at a time to prevent puckering.

Sew one line at a time. Start with the centre lines, then sew every other line out towards the edges, and then the remaining lines. The quilted lines are best sewn with a stitch length of 3–4 mm.
