Stylish felt basket

Make a practical felt storage basket with stylish details. A leather handle and rivets add that little something extra.

Method:

Cut out the bottom according to the template (reverse the template towards the line with the arrows; see image 1). The dotted line shows where to fold the felt.

Make holes at the marks using the tool included with the hollow rivets.

Cut out the other two felt sheets according to the dimensions (see image 2) and make holes for the hollow rivets based on the marks (see image 3).

Assemble the two large felt pieces together with 4 hollow rivets along each short side. The pieces should be overlapping (i.e., the piece in front on one side should be behind the other piece on the other side).

Pin the bottom from underneath to the inside of the felt basket. (Note! The felt basket is oval-shaped, and the seams of the side pieces should form the long sides of the oval). Make holes in the side pieces in the same places where there are holes in the tabs on the bottom. Secure the bottom with hollow rivets.

Secure the long felt strips together with 2 hollow rivets; these should also be overlapping. Place the resulting ring on the inside of the felt basket. Its edges should be lined up with the large sheets (see image 3).

Carve or cut holes into the felt on either side of the seams at approx. 10 cm intervals and 4 cm from the top edge (through both the large felt sheets and the narrow strips) for the leather handle. The scores should be about 2 cm wide.

Split the leather strap in half so that you have two pieces that are 50 cm long.

Make holes in the leather straps using the tool included with the hollow rivets, or with punch pliers, according to the dimensions in the instructions (see image 5).

Thread them through the scores and secure with screw rivets.
